Socialism -- Cure For Capitalism?

The LPP club will attempt to convince the House that Socialism offers the only cure for the economic troubles of capitalism at the Model Parliament tonight. The Official Opposition indicates that this suggestion will meet with very strong opposition on the floor.

A bill calling for trade with the Socialist countries and for government owned building of public projects will be presented.

Acting as government for this Parliament will be the LPP Club. The Official Opposition will be formed by the P.C. Club, with the Liberals and CCF'ers as second and third oppositions, respectively.

SPEAKER

The event will begin at 8:15 P.M. in the Union Ballroom with Mr. Peter Scott, Ph.D. student in Political Science, as Speaker of the House. The guest speaker for the Government will be Mr. Harry Binder.

The bill to be presented is as follows:

"Whereas the signs of economic decline are multiplying, resulting in the deterioration of the living standards of the Canadian people, and

"Whereas the number of unemployed in Canada has reached the alarming figure of 580,000, second only to that of the late depression, and

"Whereas this crisis is a direct result of policies pursued by the previous Canadian government, dictated by American interests, which have prevented us from extending normal trade relations with all countries in the world; prevented the development of our own processing plants for raw materials; imposed restrictions on our exports to the U.S. and undertaken large scale dumping of cheap American products to effect the ruin of many of our industries,

"Be it resolved, that this Government, realizing its responsibilities to the Canadian people, will guarantee every person in Canada a job at, at least, the minimum necessary wage to provide a decent standard of living as determined by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, by:

1. Re-establishing trade with all countries on a free and equal basis with particular emphasis on the vast markets available in the Commonwealth countries, and in the Socialist countries, and by

2. Engaging in an ever expanding, Government owned, program of building the Nation, starting with—

(a) Building an all Canadian St. Lawrence Seaway and Hydro development.

(b) Building a Trans-Canada natural gas pipeline.

(c) Building 750,000 low rental, low cost homes."

CONVINCE

In effect, the Government will attempt to convince the House that Socialism offers the only cure for the economic troubles of Capitalism. The Official Opposition indicates that this bill will meet very strong opposition on the floor.

The Model Parliament Steering Committee wishes to inform the students that the "open period" of discussion provides the opportunity for any student of the University to voice his opinion on the subject under discussion, and that every student on the campus is eligible to vote.

"Panty-Pink" Daily Shocks Western

London, Ont. — (CUP) — "Panty-pink" was the adjective applied at Western to the special Winter Carnival issue of The Daily which was shipped to one American and five Canadian universities.

Five thousand extra copies of the special issue were printed as advertising for the Carnival and were shipped by air freight to Toronto and by rail to Western, Queen's, Carleton, Laval and Dartmouth universities. The issue was printed on pink paper.

The Western Gazette, in a front page article, said: "A special issue of The McGill Daily has made its way onto Western's campus. Wednesday afternoon students were confronted with this charming panty-pink edition heralding the annual Winter Carnival to be held at McGill University by this week-end."

GRADUATE STUDENTS IN SCIENCE, ENGINEERING, ARCHITECTURE

All students who expect to graduate in the above courses in 1954 are requested to fill in the questionnaire of the Bureau of Technical Personnel. Students in Science should fill these in in the Registrar's Office, Dawson Hall; those in Engineering in the Dean's Office, Engineering Building; and those in Architecture in the office of the Director of the School.

"Measure for Measure"

Prof. Porter Heads New Drama Series

By Peter Salter

Professor Stephen Porter who is directing the McGill English Department's production of "Measure for Measure" has had a variety of theatrical experience including writing, directing, producing and acting in plays as well as doing some editorial work for the theatre pages of New York newspapers.

"Measure for Measure", one of the least produced Shakespeare plays, is the second in a series of great, but rarely seen master-works of drama to be presented at the United States and Mexico to observe current theatrical activities in these countries.

After completing his undergraduate studies in English literature at Yale University, Mr. Porter worked for the New York Herald Tribune. He remembers this experience as being somewhat less than brilliant; for his principle job was to proof-read the "Peter Rabbit Stories" for potential obscenities while he endeavored to live extravagantly on his sixteen dollars-a-week salary. The situation improved when he moved to the PM Newspaper where he wrote for the theatre page under Louis Kronenberger, now drama critic for Time magazine.

MODERN DRAMA

Five years ago he came to McGill to teach courses in Modern Drama. Last year he was placed in charge of the English Department's dramatic productions in order to institute a new policy of staging seldom seen dramatic masterpieces. The series commenced last year with the successful presentations of the Greek tragedy Euripides "Hippolytus" directed by Professor Porter.

Debating Elections

Ring out the Old, ring in the New Debating Executive. Elections for the new posts will take place today promptly after 1 pm in the Union Ballroom. All members of the SEC and all those interested in debating are asked to attend.

Len Cohen, BA 3, and Gerald Charness BCL 2 are running for president. Len Cohen was Vice President of the Society last year and Gerald Charness has been on the executive in past years. Competing for the position of Vice President will be Joe Nuss and Tony Graham. Blema Solomon won the position of Women's Vice-President by acclamation.

Ralph Ordower and Harold Ashenmil are competing for the Secretarial post and Sid Sederoff was acclaimed Treasurer.

A library card will be necessary for identification. The retiring executive will retire to the Cafe Ernest tonight at 6 pm for supper and reminiscences.

A & S, Plumbers In Shield Final

The finals for the interfaculty debating shield will take place tomorrow at 1 pm in the Union Clubroom on the topic: Resolved that the Western Allies are losing the cold war. Irv Goffman and Harold Ashenmil of Arts and Science will take the affirmative of the resolution, while Louis Hollander and Mike Orlander of Engineering will uphold the negative.

Every faculty enters one team in the preliminaries, and these teams compete in an elimination tournament. The Arts and Science team reached the finals after having defeated Law and Commerce. The Engineers were declared the winners against Divinity.

There will be three judges for this event. The shield will be presented in the clubroom immediately following the decision. This is one of the most highly coveted debating awards at McGill. The victorious faculty has the honour of exhibiting the shield for one year.

Next to the Intercollegiate laurels, the interfaculty shield is ranked highest. Competition for the shield is a long standing reputation at the University.

All competing debaters have had much experience, especially during the past year. The topic was chosen with great care to insure that the debate will be on a high level, with much clash and controversy. This is among the last debating events of the year, and everyone interested is asked to attend.

Gift Added To Collection

McGill University has acknowledged with gratitude a gift from the Royal Family, it was disclosed on the campus today.

The gift, a rich-hued doctorate gown was worn by the late Queen Mary when she received an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws with the late King George V at the historic ceremony when they visited Montreal in 1901, as the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York.

The gown, kept in perfect condition throughout the years, was sent to Dr. F. Cyril James, principal and vice-chancellor, by Her Royal Highness the Princess Royal, a daughter of the late Queen Mary, at the suggestion of Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh who were much intrigued during their visit in 1951 with the exhibit of mementoes of Royal tours arranged to mark their visit to McGill.

OTHER MOMENTOS

At the direction of Dr. James the robe is being placed with other mementoes of the Royal Family in the rare McCord Museum collections.

Take Five of Ten Events To Gain CIAU Title

By Lewis Batshaw

The McGill swimming crew swept to an exciting victory in last Saturday afternoon's CIAU championships at Western, as the locals took their first title in three years. The McGillians showed the way in five out of 10 events to garner the Dougall trophy, emblematic of intercollegiate supremacy. McGill's nerve-pulsating victory in the final relay was the main factor in their win.

Led by Dave Hedberg, one of the finest swimmers to ever represent the Red and White, Ashton's aces piled up 42 points to outdistance their nearest rival, the host Western squad, by an 11 point margin. Toronto, who last year chalked up an amazingly one-sided victory, trailed far behind with only 20 markers.

Kierstead Quits McGill For Varsity

Prof. B. S. Keirstead, chairman of the social duties and commerce group in the faculty of arts and science, and William Dow, professor of economics and political science, is completing his teaching assignment at McGill University to take over a post at the University of Toronto.

Professor Keirstead, a native of the Maritimes, came to McGill in 1942 as Bronfman professor of economics and political science. He was made Dow professor in 1946 and chairman of the department of economics and political science the following year.

He was Nuffield Fellow in Great Britain in 1950-51 and then returned to his teaching assignment at McGill. He holds BA degrees from both the University of New Brunswick and Oxford, and is a fellow of the Royal Society of Canada and the holder of an LLD from the University of New Brunswick.

A native of Woodstock, N.B., Professor Keirstead was educated privately and then at the Fredericton Grammar School. He gained his BA at UNB with honors in economics and English and was named Rhodes Scholar. He won his BA at Oxford with honors in philosophy, politics and economics. He began his teaching career at UNB. He has written extensively on various phases of economics.

Handbook

All secretaries of any clubs and societies on campus who have not as yet handed in the names of their executive officers for the next session to Miss Hensley at the Union are requested to do so immediately. The information must be written. This data is required for the McGill annual Handbook 1954-55.

Women Hold Open Meeting

The Women's Union will hold its annual open meeting today at 4 pm in the Women's Union lounge in RVC.

Reports of the clubs and societies subordinate to the organization will be presented at the meeting and the candidates for Women's Union positions and for president of the MWSAA will speak briefly.

This will be the only time that candidates for these positions will speak exclusively to women students. Their talks will be limited to five minutes each. Candidates are: for president of the Women's Union, Bobbie Hutchison, Agnes White and Eve Wright; for secretary, Allison Landsdown, Jean Carol Craig and Joan Caplan; for president of the MWSAA, Nancy Roscoe and Rose MacFarlane.

Clubs and societies subordinate to the Women's Union which will present their reports are the Women's Medical Society, the Physical and Occupational Therapy Society, the Graduate Nurses Society, the RVC Historical Society and the Redwing Society.

Tea will be served at the meeting, which will be over by 5 pm.

THRILLING CLOSE

The freestyle relay brought this three-way meeting to a thrilling close, as the Red team needed at least a second place finish to win the championship. The crowd was at fever pitch, as our jobless noses out a battling Western quartet by a narrow margin, to take the laurels.

History repeated itself, as this was the second successful invasion of Thames Hall's Spencer Memorial that the Mermen have made in the last three years. In 1951, the locals walked off with the top honours at London.

Hedberg contributed a magnificent display as he streaked to triumphs in the 50 and 100 yard free style races to smash numerous records in both encounters. The 50 yard race saw him cover the distance in 24.1 seconds, eclipsing CIAU and CCSA marks. Hedberg sped to an even more spectacular clocking in the century event, when this former Harvard great posted a 53.1 timing, breaking the records of the CIAU, CCSA and the Western Pool.

This last time was the fastest he has ever achieved at McGill and exceeds any performance by a McGill free-styler. To top all this, Hedberg came through with a fantastic showing as anchor-man in the final 400 yard free style relay. He nosed out Western's top competitor, Bob Eason, who along with his team-mate Bob Eynon, were the only other double event winners of this memorable meet.

TOFFLIGHT STAY

Maroje Milosavlje, one of Yugoslavia's tofflight water polo players and an outstanding 100 metre swimmer, proved indispensable in the relay by overcoming a three yard lead which Eynon had on him as Western's No. three man, in this, the most thrilling fixture of the afternoon's card. Milosavlje, who is in by no means top condition, and who was participating for the first time this year, rose to the occasion and overtook Eynon in splendid fashion. This set the stage for Hedberg's fine contribution.

Lloyd Kishino was another bright spot on the McGill horizon, as he captured the 200 yard breast stroke contest, and also gained a valuable second place in the individual medley event. Kishino flashed the breast stroke route in the good time of 2:36.7 to lead the field by a large margin.

Yvon Delisle, who has been a consistent winner throughout the current season, climaxed a good year, when he capped the diving honours in a decisive manner. Delisle came up with a steady exhibition, which gave him this well-deserved triumph.

Robbie Cook, superior middle-distance splasher, was forced to take second place to Western's Eason, in both the 200 and 440 yd. races, but nevertheless was an important cog in McGill's victory. Pete Caldwell and Art Rosenberg took good third places in the breast stroke and backstroke contests respectively.

IMPORTANT FACTORS

George Cox and Pete Brooks were significant factors in the Mermen's excellent showing in the last relay, which was only nine-tenths of a second off the CIAU and CCSA records.

Ashton stated that he was most pleased with his boys' showing. In considering the year's activities, Norm's contribution as coach can only be viewed as deserving of the highest praise.

Don Allen

Daily Staffer Hits 200 By-Line Mark

Don Allen, Daily contributor for more College sessions than most McGill students can remember, set what may be something of a Canadian University Press record when he handed in his 200th full-length signed feature story to The Daily last night, but says he is still "a very long way" from signing his final "30" to McGill University coverage or to student press reporting. This, as he expresses it, is why:

"A few years ago I was interviewing Principal James for one of a series of biographical articles. He made a rather startling comment. He told of his work as an economist and catcher before he came to McGill, and added 'There's no place I've seen as exciting as a university'. It took me several years of studying McGill as well as studying at McGill to find out what Mr. James meant."

"UNUSUAL FACETS"

Allen's "specialty" has been, as he puts it, seeking out "unusual facets" of McGill. Virtually all of his 200 stories have been "unassigned"; he has brought them to the News Office completed without anyone knowing they were under consideration. Often the stories had their beginnings in unusual places. He accepted the MOC's invitation for a New Year's Eve "Up-North" story 186 was the result. A year earlier he took the controls of a glider over St. Eugene, Ont., while gathering material for a Gliding Club feature. He has flown with the RCAF to obtain facts of the Reserve University Squadron. But most of his unusual stories have borne the simple dateline "Macdonald College, Que."

Allen has been on the look for, had obtained, considerable newspaper experience since first arriving at McGill. He joined The Daily in 1949 and held editorial positions in News or Features until 1951. Since then he has styled himself "contributor". He holds Daily silver and gold awards and

DON ALLEN

ASUS and Students' Society awards for his efforts. In addition to articles he has turned out fifty feature columns for the Daily and for the ASUS "Campus Circles" series in The Daily. A number of his articles have been syndicated by Canadian University Press.

The Bookfair Incident

McGill's student Labour Progressive Party Club held its annual Marxist bookfair Friday in the Union Clubroom. On sale were "The Canadian Tribune", "The Worker", and several pamphlets and books ranging from "The Road to Power" by Joseph Stalin to the short stories of Stephen Leacock. Most of the works were party publications dedicated to explaining the communist line; some were art collections, some were Canadian stories and poems, and some were well-known novels of social injustice such as Alan Paton's "Too Late The Phalarope".

During the morning the sale attracted only a few casual browsers, amusingly reading such items as "Expose U.S. plot to grab huge B.C.-Yukon region", but after noon considerable numbers of the curious flocked into the room.

Shortly after one o'clock the trouble started. As a sign "Beware-Skunk Inside" was posted on the door, with at least a hundred people crowded inside, about twenty students started to work. A table full of books was turned over, one book was torn up, and some hostility developed. Due largely to the highly creditable peace-making efforts of Jim Robb and John Jonas (Students' Society and Union Presidents), who cleared the room and quietly talked to the crowd milling around outside for two hours, any real trouble was avoided.

We, and with us a tremendously overwhelming majority of the McGill student body, heartily detest the Labour Progressive Party and everything it stands for. Yet we, and again with us a great majority of the student body, also take an extremely dim view of Friday's attempt to break up the sale by violence.

Almost everyone present who was not directly involved with selling the books hated communism. Then why this difference in attitude between those who came to read, buy, or laugh, and leave the sale to prosper or flop as it chose, and those who wanted to smash it by force? Several rather heated discussions broke out between adherents of two views. To suggestions such as "If you don't like the sale, just boycott it—don't go to it!" came such replies as "No—you've got to use violence to stop them!" "You've got to use violence."

This statement is a fundamental contradiction of the entire concept of Canadian democracy.

We must assume that the "troublemakers", as we have called them, either were unaware of the meaning of "Canadian Democracy" or were not interested in it.

If the first alternative is true, we do not mean by this remark to slight those students among the "troublemakers" who were first or second generation Canadians from certain East European countries. Many of their ex-countrymen know or are learning far more about the Canadian way of life than thousands of fourth, fifth or sixth generation Canadians of French and English origin who know nothing about it and care less.

We must credit the troublemakers for listening to reason, for allowing a few things about Canadian democracy to be explained to them, for allowing themselves to be told why we feel that democracy must be defended by democratic means or is it not a democracy, and for finally going home and, we hope, thinking it over.

If they were not interested in our democracy, we cannot blame them too hastily. Some of them came from countries which have never known such a thing; coming to Canada, or first seeing Canada through their parents' eyes, they may see the great faults in our democracy as it stands at present more clearly than do we ourselves.

We credit them, too, for listening to explanation, and we hope that they realize that true democracy is an ideal to which they and we must dedicate our lives and work.

Letters To The Editor

The Teaching Of Latin

Dear Sir,
 I wish to reply to the letter written by Messrs. McAssey and Clarke which appeared in Thursday's Daily. The writers took exception to an article of Mr. Vallilée's on the teaching of Latin in various High School systems. They claimed that Mr. Vallilée had deliberately chosen marks which would make graduates of Catholic High Schools look inferior, and they said that if he had not done so, he ought to have said that he was giving "a fair cross-section of both groups". I do not believe for a minute that Mr. Vallilée would be "guilty of... choosing his facts to fit his prejudices." He did not say that he was giving a fair cross-section because there was no need to do so; it could be assumed that he was giving that.

He was, moreover, not criticizing the Catholic High Schools so much as the method of teaching which substitutes the memorization of a set translation for a real understanding of the original constructions, and he also criticized the Protestant schools, because their small Latin requirement makes it possible to memorize the work. He certainly found fault with bad methods of teaching (as he had a perfect right to do), but I do not think he can be accused of prejudice.

Sex In Shakespeare

Dear Sir,
 We who are producing "Measure for Measure" were surprised and a little bit amused to find that Shakespeare's honesty in depicting sexual sin still has enough vitality to shock and outrage a student at McGill. Educators warn us against the corrupting effect of films, television, comic-books and other mass media, but the subversive influence of Shakespeare is a danger which had never struck us until we read the Daily of February 26.

On second thought, however, I can see that a superficial reading of "Measure for Measure" might leave a sordid impression. Several of the characters are engaged in professional vice. The puritanical governor who punishes them turns out to be as sinful as the criminals he condemns—all the more sinful because he continues to profess virtue. The heroine, who is untouched by the corruption around her, makes a choice which has repelled several critics: she keeps her chastity at the cost of her brother's life. Taken out of context, these elements might well lead a hasty reader to reject the play as unpleasant or even perverse.

But nothing in a play should ever be judged out of context. To anyone who sees the play in its entirety, not allowing himself to be unduly swayed by certain lurid moments, it becomes clear that the whole structure of "Measure for Measure" is designed to vindicate purity, humility and Christian mercy. The action moves past all the bawdy farce and the apparent triumph of evil, embodied in the unjust governor, to emerge at last into an atmosphere of reconciliation and solemn joy. All discords are resolved through the wisdom of the Duke, who patiently struggles to balance the claims of justice and mercy, and through the piety of Isabella, who sacrifices revenge on her enemy to the same Christian duty which has demanded that she sacrifice her brother's life. The intolerant governor learns, through his own sin, that no man is pure enough to condemn another, and there is hope that, through the forgiveness of Isabella and Mariana, he may even learn to forgive himself.

This play, sometimes dismissed as coarse and cynical, is really Shakespeare's most explicitly religious work. Its low comic characters serve the same purpose that similar rogues serve in Dante's Hell. The anguish and despair of the middle section are an earthly Purgatory, preparing the sufferers for an ending which prefigures the Kingdom of Heaven. There is almost literal truth in the often-repeated statement that "Measure for Measure" is Shakespeare's Divine Comedy.

The Daily Reviews:

"Green and Gold Revue"

By Don Allen

If all the campus spirit and class enthusiasm that permeates just about every facet of residential and extracurricular life at McGill's Macdonald College could be unleashed on campus society in a single, concentrated dosing, the reaction at St. Anne de Bellevue might well shake McGill cyclotron foundations. If, on the other hand, that keen group enthusiasm which ensures the annual success of Mac's Sadie Hawkins weeks, Ice Carnivals, Freshman Trials, Campus Queen elections, and the like, could be carefully channeled through the months and then skillfully given forth before an appreciative gathering, the result might well prove remarkable. And such, in a way, is what happens each winter when the Macdonald College Literary and Debating Society unites the efforts of over half the campus in the unpretentious but highly entertaining "homespun musical extravaganza" that is Mac's Green and Gold Revue.

The 1954 Revue, which assumed the campus spotlight before more-than-capacity audiences in the College Assembly Hall (comparable to Moyses Hall) for four evenings last week, continued the Green and Gold tradition of sparing no effort in integrating the best of campus talent into a highly colourful and rewarding presentation.

RURAL SETTING

In its 1954 edition, the Revue capitalizes on interest in the stage and the rural community in presenting the story of the cast of a road show that came to a peculiar, but happy end. The troupe selling a patent quack remedy, "Murphy's 600", is booted out of town, the "cure" is exposed as a fraud, and complete failure threatens when news is received that Murphy's eccentric uncle has passed on, leaving his nephew a million and a half dollars on the express condition that he move to the uncle's farm and tend it successfully for a year.

The troupe heads to rural surroundings, where a farmer's daughter enters the plot for love interest even as the Uncle's well-stocked whisky cellar is uncovered in a highly amusing scene. Murphy and troupe make the best of farm life, but it soon becomes evident that their hearts are on stage rather than behind the plow.

A colourful climax is reached when the troupe determines to convert an oversize barn into a show-house, while tending to farming duties through the day. Friends are invited to the opening, and against such a backdrop a panorama of Mac talent is presented. Closing scenes witness the compromise as a happy one, as troupe, Murphy and bride abandon thoughts of GOO and city life to settle down to their cool million, the whisky cellar, and the pastoral bliss of the country.

MANY TALENTED

The Green and Gold is hardly a professional show, and makes no claim to be such. It is a College working together to produce an enjoyable evening, primarily for parents, friends, staff and fellow-students. As such it is highly successful. In a number of respects, it is outstanding.

Producer-director and male lead, Bill Hall, Ag.Eng. IV, of Ottawa, turns in a first-rate performance, as he has been doing each year since his freshman days. Bill, a former president of Lit and Deb, plans work in his academic field after graduation, but looks to part-time stage work when opportunity presents itself. He has hopes of starting a light operatic society.

IVDL president Martin Lishman, long noted on the Mac campus stage, contributes well to the show, as does Charlie Cadet, a post grad in Poultry Husbandry whose singing measures up to the professional. Janet Spencer, female lead, as the farmer's daughter acts and sings most agreeably.

Three definite strong points of the '54 Revue are the sets, under the direction of Connie Dunn, and the nine original songs, with music and lyrics by such well-known Mac names as Bill Hall, John Burke, Charlie Cadet, Mel Poole, Tod Andrews and Trevor Phillips, and the dancing.

The show has its weaknesses. It drags somewhat after an excellent start. At times it seems to deviate regrettably, as if losing sight of its overall theme. But its humour is Macdonald's...

"Late to bed and early to rise Keeps your roommate from wearing your ties" and the Revue makes little pretense of being other than a College community show. As such, it is a valuable supplement to the Macdonald academic program and a splendid example of close cooperation between students of Mac's departments of study. Most importantly, in keeping with Green and Gold tradition, it offers what was generally looked upon as good training, a good show, and a good time for audience and cast alike.

Western Co-ed To Visit Douglas Hall

Movies This Week

At the Snowdon
 "The Big Heat" is the sort of detective film that Hollywood needs to lift the screen whodunit out of the box office doldrums. A believable story with adequate acting and characterization. Adapted from a Saturday Evening Post serial, the film features Glenn Ford, Gloria Grahame and Jocelyn Brando in leading roles.

"One Too Many", despite the probable mediocrity as entertainment implied by a film on the alcoholic problem, is well worth seeing, for its vital lesson is in no way subordinate to its fine plot. It is to be regretted that the Snowdon feels it necessary to hide the name of this important full-length film in an obscure corner of its "The Big Heat" advertisements.

At the Capitol
 "So Big", taken from the novel of the same name by Edna Ferber, is a convincing and moving movie of a mother seeing her son grow to manhood. Jane Wyman is the mother, and is supported by a strong cast including Sterling Hayden, Steve Forest, Nancy Olson, and Richard Beymer.

W. O'H.

At the Imperial
 "Border River": a lively and colourful story of a confederate major in an outlaw territory. Joel McCrea is the major and Pedro Armendariz is a comic villain. Yvonne De Carlo is also present.

At the Princess
 "Jivaro" is, on the whole, a dreary and dragged out story of adventure in the Amazon jungles. Fernando Lamas is the handsome South American trader who is entrusted with Rhonda Fleming on an overnight boat trip. The tropical backgrounds are good.

At the Orpheum
 "Moulin Rouge", the colourful story of the life of the painter, Toulouse, is back again, this time at popular prices. It is impossible to add anything to what has already been said about this film, except to say that some of the censor's cuts were pretty obvious.

Students' Society President

Dick Cowan

Platform

Provided that the McGill delegation to NFCUS reports favourably upon decisions reached at this conference, McGill should enthusiastically support an active NFCUS programme and at the same time urge more Regional Conferences, a more stimulating and effective cultural programme, a strong government lobby to look after student interests, a general reorganization of the National Office, and for a firm voice on Student Affairs at an International level.

FEDERAL AID

McGill should continue to agitate both for Federal Aid (and National Scholarships in particular) and to press for the greatest possible Provincial support. McGill is at the moment facing a very real financial crisis and everything possible must be done to bring about a solution to this critical situation.

FINANCES

Waste and extravagance must be cut out. Various campus organizations must be encouraged to become increasingly self-supporting (though those activities such as the highly successful McGill Debating Union, which bring in no revenue, should continue to be supported at the present level). The Students' Society can not afford to be a charitable organization and in order to produce a balanced budget various gestures of generosity must be reluctantly curtailed.

Grants to undergraduate societies must be continued where they have been justified. Where should student activities be cut? Student activities MUST NOT be cut!

IUS

At present negotiations are planned for this Summer with the IUS to hammer out details of associate membership for NFCUS with the IUS. Unless this joint meeting produces a very marked change in the attitude and stance of the IUS, McGill's support of it would be both unwise and unjustified.

PUBLIC MEETINGS

My policy has always been one of complete Daily coverage.

"I am in favour of full coverage of the McGill Daily on all SEC meetings. This will serve the purpose of informing students of what goes on in the SEC — a body which incidentally handles astronomical amounts of money — and also it will insure that those on the SEC remember that they have got important work to do." — This is a quotation from my platform when I was running for SEC as A&S representative last November.

I however emphasize that discussions such as on award winners or salaries (e.g. Sec-Tres) should always be regarded as confidential.

SUGGESTIONS

(i) Encourage the New Union Committee to speed up its efforts towards the building of a new Union in the near future. I feel that as the center of student activities the present Union is quite inadequate and large repair bills are a somewhat heavy burden on the Society budget.

(ii) Work for closer cooperation and a friendlier relationship with not only our own Faculty members but also with the University of Montreal.

(iii) Inaugurate a strong Academic Interests Committee, the purpose of which would not only be to encourage the student but also to make pressing recommendations to the University itself in those instances where it is felt that it is the University and not the student who is to be blamed for the lack of academic interests on our campus.

(iv) As a member of the Athletics Board and the Student Athletics Council I will cooperate to the greatest possible extent with the Chairman of the SAC — to make sure that the New Hockey Rink will soon be a reality, to encourage the setting up of a Loan Fund to help needy students, to critically examine the whole Athletics organization (and the deficits that are yearly becoming more and more astronomical) with the hope that one day it may be less susceptible to delay, confusion and Red Tape (mainly the result of too many committees), and that new ideas may be less suspiciously received. In every way I will take the greatest interest in every aspect of Athletics here at McGill.

Pen Sketch

We the undersigned have every confidence in Dick Cowan. We have been impressed by the positions he has held, but what has made us so firmly convinced that Dick is the outstanding choice for President of the Students' Society is the admirable way in which he has filled these positions. Those qualities of leadership and maturity have been most evident in every job toward which he has turned his interest.

Marv Gameroff

Platform

The position of President of the Students' Society is executive and not a legislative. Hence, the nature of the office forbids me from making any enthusiastic promises which, as President, I would not have the authority to execute. I can guarantee, however, to work harmoniously with the SEC and the Students' Society, and to carry out the wishes of these bodies as best I can, and to assist them in any way possible in their deliberations.

NFCUS

The concept of a body, representative of Canadian Student opinion is one which I heartily endorse. Unfortunately, NFCUS has been rich in principle and poor in practice. Nevertheless, McGill should remain in NFCUS. McGill should also advocate certain reforms such as: a full-time, out-of-school president elected annually; more regional activity where the Universities can obtain some direct benefits from NFCUS; the incorporation of the Massey Recommendations as part of an active programme; a NFCUS sponsored "Scope" which would provide Universities across Canada with speakers and artists; more intra-Canadian student exchanges; and immediate contact with Ottawa for more scholarships.

FEDERAL AID

I heartily endorse the University's position as stated in the brief which was presented to the Tremblay Commission. Here is a concrete example where NFCUS can justify its existence. We should seek the endorsement of our position by NFCUS, and then, speaking through NFCUS, make representation at all levels of public opinion and on the governmental level as well. Our needs far exceed the proposed Quebec grants, and we could use more support from Ottawa.

FINANCE

The problem of finance is not a new one. Every year is budget year, and budgets present problems. This year several factors have made the problem more acute, the main one in our mind being the great increase in The Daily's printing costs. When faced with this problem, the Council solved it by budgeting for a deficit. This should not become a policy with the SEC. I am opposed to next year's SEC solving their problems by also budgeting for a loss. The budget must be balanced. This can be done, and it will not necessitate any financial butchery of smaller campus organizations. Grants to Undergraduate Societies etc. should be continued. Some groups have already taken the lead in some (Continued on Page 6)

Pen Sketch

It is a truism that the President of the Student's Society is the most important student executive post on the McGill campus. It is equally obvious, therefore, that the man elected to this post must be a man of wide experience in Campus activities, a man who has proven himself interested in all phases of student activity, and a capable administrator. Upon this premise, we have come to the conclusion that Marv Gameroff is the man for the job, and an examination of his activities will bear us out.

1. Administration:

- a) Class President, 1948-1949; 1949-1950.
- b) Representative on the S.E.C., 1951-1952.
- c) Inter-faculty Debating Chairman, 1950-1951.
- d) Chairman of the Veterans' Christmas Gift Drive, 1948.
- e) Awarded the A. & S.U.S. "A" award, 1950-1951; Special Award by A. & S.U.S. 1952.
- f) Service on the Dates Committee, 1949-1950.

2. Athletics:

- a) McGill Indians Football Team, 1950, 1951, 1952.
- b) McGill Track team, 1951-1952.

3. Debating and Public Speaking:

- a) Arts and Science Debating Champion, 1949-1950.
- b) Awarded the Debating Union's Gold Key award, 1951.
- c) Papineau Cup winner, 1951.
- d) Represented McGill on innumerable occasions as an Intercollegiate Debater.
- e) Represented McGill at the Pan-American Oration Contest, Mexico City, 1952.

4. Assistant Producer-Director McGill Talent Variety Revue.

5. Member, Scarlet Key Society 1950-1951; advisor to the Society, 1951-1952.

Experience — ability — sincere interest in all phases of campus life — on these grounds we heartily recommend Marv Gameroff for the position of President of the Students' Society. It is a privilege to do so.

Platform

The majority of women students do not realize the amount of beneficial work that is done by the Women's Union Executive. In my answers to these questions I hope to arouse the interest of women students in the function and purpose of their union.

OBJECT

The object of the Women's Union is to provide for the social, cultural and recreational needs of its members through a varied program, and integrate the various women's activities on our campus.

INDEPENDENCE

To forfeit the independence of the Women's Union would result in loss of unity and destroy the hard-earned stability which the Women's Union has built up through the years. The Women's Union is more capable of governing women's affairs than an organization already weighed down with other responsibilities.

ACTIVITIES

There are so many social functions already on the campus that it hardly seems necessary to introduce more. The Women's Union is primarily a service organization.

CUTS

I am not in favour of cutting student activity but I feel that the increasing number of club budgets should be kept to a minimum.

NFCUS

A national federation of university students is definitely beneficial. It is necessary to present the opinions of Canadian students to other Canadians and the world at large. However the present national federation is inefficient and does not represent the best interests of the students. Reorganization of NFCUS as well as reorientation of its aims is necessary.

FINANCES

I suggest that a representative student commission should be set up to investigate the SEC finances with the purpose of:

- a) cutting down waste and extravagance.
- b) making all extra-curricular activities to a greater extent self-supporting and less dependent on SEC grants.

SUGGESTIONS

- a) A well-organized and enthusiastic Freshmen reception including a Women's Union information booth at registration.
- b) an RVC open house to help all women students, resident and non-resident, new and old, to get acquainted.
- c) to increase the publicity of Women's Union events and plans through the publication of a regular bulletin and the Daily.
- d) the inauguration of suggestion boxes for the self-expression of women students.
- e) career talks presenting specific facts of interest to women students and giving more concrete advice.

If elected to the presidency of the Women's Union I shall do my best to uphold the interests of McGill women students on every occasion.

Barbara Hutchison

Pen Sketch

We, the undersigned, unhesitatingly endorse Barbara Hutchison for the position of president of the Women's Union. During her three years here Bobbie has participated in many campus activities, cultural, scholastic and athletic, which give evidence not only of her interest and concern for student affairs but also of her ability and competence for an executive position.

Prior to McGill Bobbie attended Nepean High School in Ottawa, Ontario, where she was president of the Women's Athletic Association, a representative of the Students' Council and an active member of the H-Y. Since entering McGill Bobbie has continued to take an active part in the campus life as is illustrated by the following activities:

- Annual Sales Staff '52, '53
- Assistant Sales Manager '54
- Winter Carnival '52, '53
- Fashion Show committee '52, '53
- Open House '54
- R.V.C. House Committee '52, '53
- R.V.C. House Council '53, '54
- Red and White Review '53
- Interfaculties Basketball '52, '53
- Combined Charities '52.

Because of her essential qualities as a leader, amiable personality, as well as her devotion to any responsibility she undertakes we have great confidence in Bobbie and sincerely feel that if elected she will perform her duties as President of the Women's Union with the greatest efficiency.

Platform

I do not feel that anything whatsoever can be gained by making the Women's Union a committee of the S.E.C.; quite the contrary, such a move would completely destroy it and the efforts of the past few presidents to give it the position it is attaining on campus.

SOCIAL FUNCTIONS

The Women's Union should sponsor more social functions only if the need for them is prevalent. It is not a social club, but if the Women of McGill feel the need for additional social activity, it is the job of the Women's Union to provide it for them.

The Women's Union is primarily to provide services for and meet the needs of women on this campus, which are not fulfilled by any other organization. It is the medium through which we can hold our own as equal members in the Student Society.

FINANCES

A thorough investigation should be made into every budget, cutting out all expenditures not absolutely necessary. If need be, request those clubs and societies to assume a part of their expense where only its members gain from membership, and I would not have fees raised until there is no other alternative.

CUTS

The clubs and societies which are of benefit only to those who hold membership should be asked to bear a part of the financial responsibility, thus leaving a greater portion of the funds for such as the annual, the Red and White Revue, and the Choral Society where a greater number of people will benefit.

NFCUS

The NFCUS is essential, an organization representing student opinion and the students themselves in national and international student affairs. The NFCUS, granted, is in need of great improvement, and McGill should lead in making it the sort of organization which can serve us and accomplish its goals as originally laid out to be.

SUGGESTIONS

I would like to issue frequent bulletins which will keep all women constantly informed of the activities which the Women's Union is undertaking, and what services are being offered for them. Also I would like to extend the Senior Luncheon to lunchrooms for each class. Further I would like to establish an exchange of ideas with women's organizations of other universities, so that we may improve our own. Finally I would like to see the Women's Union sponsor a Freshmen Advisory Council to assist generally all girls new to the university.

Agnes White

Pen Sketch

Agnes White was born in Jacksonville, Florida, of Canadian parents. She attended Oak Bay High School in Victoria, B.C., and Landon High School in Jacksonville.

While in school she was editor of the school annual, a member of the executive in the Historical Honorary Society, a member of the National Honour Society, the Florida Press Association and an executive of the Junior Red Cross Council. She was also an active participant in all athletic events.

Before coming to McGill she spent two years at Duke University where she served on the Student Exchange Committee, was resident librarian, a prominent member of the annual staff, a member of the Woman's Athletic Association and was active in the University Symphony Orchestra.

Since she has been at McGill, Aggie has been Features Editor of the Annual and has taken part in the Red and White Revue.

Although Aggie has been at McGill for a short time, we the undersigned feel that she has those qualities which are necessary to make an excellent president of the Women's Union.

Eve Wright

Platform

I think the Women's Union is an efficient entity by itself and would gain nothing and might lose much in independence by becoming a committee of the SEC. We have representation on the Council as it is and strength and independence which would be lost if we made ourselves subordinate to it.

FUNCTION

In my opinion, the function of the Women's Union is to provide a co-ordinating unit for the women on the campus; to give women's opinions more weight by uniting them; to provide services for, and help the activities of, the women students of McGill.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

I think more social activities should be included in the Union. These would give residents and non-residents a better chance to know each other. They might include teas, tea dances, and a bridge night.

FINANCES

It seems to me that the financial situation of the various clubs, societies and activities on the campus has not been fully investigated. The SEC has had enough money to throw around for a long time, and has done almost that. Now that this is no longer true, I would urge a careful study of the aforementioned, especially the activities which go into debt or which could be re-organized on a profit basis. I am sure the situation can be relieved.

CUTS

I would cut things like the Red and White, dances which automatically budget for a deficit, and all such things which could be re-organized to form self-sufficient entities and which, if reduced in scope, would not vitally affect the cultural or intellectual life of the university.

NFCUS

I am in complete agreement with McGill's new attitude to NFCUS. If the proposed changes in the federation are not adopted, McGill should withdraw. NFCUS could become an efficient, vitally important organization, but it is not at present. In fact there is no reason to support its present form.

SUGGESTIONS

If elected President of the Women's Union I would try to continue the work of this year's executive as efficiently as it has been done in the past. This includes the Second Hand Book Exchange, blazer distribution and the raffling of theatre tickets. Besides this I would try to provide some sort of link between the residents and non-residents at McGill, and organize more social activities, as well as continuing the Senior Luncheons and Freshette reception. I would like to thank all the people who nominated me and to promise my sincere hard-working attempts, if elected, to continue the Women's Union as an efficient, valuable organization.

Eve Wright

Pen Sketch

Eve Wright came to McGill from Bishop Strachan's School and is at present a Third Year Arts student in Honours English. We feel that she possesses the required characteristics to be voted President of the Women's Union by their official representatives.

First, her friendly and natural manner and her tact, combined with her ability to stand firm to her own ideas would enable her to further the cause of the Women's Union in all phases of its activities.

Then, also, through a wide variety of student's activities she has gained experience and has already shown executive ability. She has been active in the MWSAA and for two years has played on the Intercollegiate Basketball team, this year as captain. She is also a member of the University Air Force Contingent, and an executive of the MOC. This year she was active in the Combined Charities Campaign, and is now efficiently editing the RVC Year Book. Finally, beyond these various activities, she has gained experience actually in the Women's Union by being on this year's executive.

Therefore, because of her ability and varied experience, we feel that Eve should receive your full support; vote Eve Wright as President of the Women's Union.

Martha M. McDougall

Roy Amaron

Platform

I propose to continue a system of Union rentals, and would modify the present system to make it less arbitrary. To eliminate this source of revenue would be disastrous to the already unbalanced budget.

It is my firm belief, one seemingly borne out by the facts, that a new Union can be a reality in a very few years. This will require a strong "new Union" committee and enthusiastic student support. I hope to be able to ensure both.

Whether or not a new Union is imminent, it would be bad business not to keep the present one in good repair and properly decorated, thus reducing its value. I am not in favour of any large capital expenditures on the present Union at this time.

To change the location of the billiard room from the second floor to the basement would be ideal. It would also involve a considerable expenditure. The funds are not available and if they were, it would not be in keeping with the above stated policy.

FINANCES

Daily expenditures must be cut — but not to the total extinction of the Daily. Some reorganization is obviously necessary in order to achieve a more nearly balanced SEC budget. If it is not already done, I shall favour the early appointment of a committee to examine the use made of Student Society grants to clubs and societies. I do not favour cutting student activities, but I feel that certain limited membership groups should be to a greater degree self-supporting.

I believe that the student has an undeniable right to know what his elected representatives are doing in his interests. On the other hand, certain confidential SEC business ought not to become public property. Therefore I favour one or two open meetings and comprehensive but enlightened Daily coverage of the real.

SUGGESTIONS

- a) to increase Union revenues with greater Coffee Shop profits by getting more people to use the facilities more of the time through publicity, specials and attractions.
- b) to organize a Union programme of free events, such as tea-dances, to encourage people to use the Union facilities.
- c) to redecorate and keep clean the men's washroom.
- d) to put the salon into good repair and to better use.
- e) to meet my own responsibilities squarely, to administer to the best of my ability and to use whatever qualities of maturity and experience I may possess, in the best interests of the student body.

Roy C. Amaron

Pen Sketch

Roy entered McGill in 1949 with a senior matriculation. During his years at the university his activities have been many and varied. They include work in the Winter Carnival, the Red and White Revue, the Choral Society, the Annual, C.O.T.C., and other organizations.

Following are some of his activities, offices and awards:

CHORAL SOCIETY: executive for two years; president in 1952-53.

OLD MCGILL: annual board for three years; at present Managing Editor.

ARMY: C.O.T.C. since 1950; appointed top cadet in 1952-53 and chosen from a large number of applicants to complete his training in Germany as a platoon commander with Canada's 27th Brigade; at present a contingent officer as Lieutenant.

ATHLETICS: participated in nearly every intramural sport; managed and coached Arts and Science basketball team to 1951 finals; Intermediate basketball team for 4 years; captain in 1952-53.

AWARDS: Arts and Science Gold award in 1951; S.E.C. Honourable Mention in 1952; S.E.C. Silver award in 1953.

We feel that with the experience gained from these many and varied activities and with the ability which he has shown on numerous occasions Roy Amaron would make a good president of the Men's Union and do heartily endorse his candidature.

Platform

The Union should make available and encourage the use of its facilities to all those desirous of and entitled to use them. Rentals hinder rather than encourage the maximum use of such facilities.

Payments should therefore be strictly confined to the extra costs (if any) to the Union as a result of the particular activity.

NEW UNION

The urgent need for a new union is recognized by everybody. There is sufficient interest and enthusiasm from the Governors, Senate and Dr. James to lead responsible student officers to the conclusion that the New Union can be attained in the next three to five years. (I consulted Dr. James personally and he believes that there are definitely good prospects for revenue.) I would therefore when there is a choice purchase only those things which could be enjoyed in the new union as well as the present one. However, needless to say, the present union should not be allowed to deteriorate, and the necessary repairs should be made.

To answer this question briefly I can only say that if we're going to build a new union we're going to do it right. Our present union is one of the oldest in North America, while the newer unions in other universities almost defy the imagination. It is useless to describe them. I will say only that I would give my wholehearted support to the New Union Committee and to the experts who are examining the question.

BILLIARD ROOM

I am against moving the billiard room as an unnecessary and extravagant waste of money; especially in light of the new union. It is a matter of fact that in order to effect such a change at least one wall of the New Clubroom would have to be torn down, the floor of the room would have to be strengthened, together with the mere moving of the extremely heavy tables would involve a cost of thousands of dollars.

FINANCES

As conclusively as I can put it the situation is this. If the daily were to be put in tabloid form and issued four times a week the SEC would lose approximately $5,000. Without a single drop in club budgets, of this $5,000.00 approximately $2,000.00 will not be required on next year's budget. (Costs of radio equipment, X-Rays, championship, etc.) Now, of this $3,000.00 there is no doubt that with careful scrutiny and economy this sum can be greatly diminished. For this task I would propose a special budget committee. For the remainder of the sum we are led directly to quarterly six — the cut of student activities.

CUTS

Obviously those activities should be cut which give the least benefit to the least number of people. Since in any democratic government there must be discussion and compromise, I would suggest a sincere meeting of club representatives with the SEC and/or the special budget committee mentioned in the previous question. The tabloid edition of the Daily in my opinion, should be published four times a week, but found necessary three times a week would be sufficient. The Daily is the instrument which unifies the several parts of the university, and also gives the publicity necessary for the success of many student activities. Its importance should never be underestimated.

We the undersigned are pleased to endorse Dan Lazare for the position of President of the McGill Union. We feel that the President should be a man capable of assuming the responsibilities of administering the Union, as well as being a fit representative of the student body, who will know their needs and wants and serve them. In Danny we find a man of experience and maturity, who has a diversity of activities and interests.

Danny spent his first year of university at Dawson College, and his next three at McGill, having received a B.A. Degree last year. He is now in 1st year Law.

Dan was No. 2 man of the McGill Intercollegiate Tennis Team this year, as well as on the Dawson team several years ago. He has played intramural squash, basketball, and floor hockey. Danny was a member of the ASUS Debating team and the MOC. He has worked on Combined Charities and on the Winter Carnival, as well as Freshman Reception.

During his three years at McGill Dan has become familiar with the Union and its needs, as well as the students and their wants. He can translate this knowledge into positive action.

Platform

The M.W.S.A.A. is on the campus for the specific purpose of providing athletic and recreational activities for all women students. By promoting interest and increasing participation in these activities the M.W.S.A.A. can become more effective.

This could be accomplished in several ways. Representation of the M.W.S.A.A. on the Athletics Night and Winter Carnival committees would promote an increased participation of women's teams in these events. In these instances women's athletics would be seen by many students. This would serve to increase the prestige of the M.W.S.A.A. and thus it could become more effective.

Publicity is extremely important. There should be a greater coverage of women's sports in the Daily and in the leading Montreal newspapers. The Freshman Preview was greatly improved this year but with better publicity I feel that it would attract more students.

The most important facets of the M.W.S.A.A. to me are the clubs, which are well-equipped, and their various intramural competitions. These clubs serve all the women students at McGill whether they are proficient athletes or enthusiastic beginners. However, few students take the opportunity to make use of these clubs. This situation of disinterest could be partially rectified by increased publicity in the Daily, posters in the various buildings and by contact of the council with the students themselves.

OUTSIDE ATHLETICS

I feel that the student should be allowed to participate in athletics outside of the University if he is a.) ineligible to represent the University, or b.) in need of financial support which might not otherwise be forthcoming. However, these are special considerations and the validity of such a need should be thoroughly reviewed by the Athletics Board. Should the student wish to represent an outside group as well as McGill, this, I feel, should be his choice.

NFUS

N.F.O.U.S. has the potential to become an effective organization but up to the present time the full possibilities have not been realized. McGill is a large and powerful Canadian University and I feel that she should have a definite place in N.F.O.U.S. providing that organization makes effective some of the constructive suggestions put forth by McGill.

FINANCE

The problem for the Students' Society is not which activities do we have to "cut"; it is one of basic internal reorganization of all societies. The greater proportion of student activities could continue to function on somewhat reduced budgets, with no restriction on their scope if they are prepared to look into their own operations and reduce their budgets accordingly. For several years the Junior Prom budgeted for a loss; such a reorganization was carried out and the dance now operates with a small margin of profit. There has been far too much "we budgeted for it — what's the difference if we spend it? I speak from personal experience.

In conclusion, I would like to thank those people who think me capable of filling the position of President of the M.W.S.A.A. and if elected, I promise to serve them the best of my ability and try to carry out this platform.

Nancy Roscoe

Platform

The McGill Women Students' Athletic Association will only be effective provided that its integral parts — club managers and Intramural Sports Committee, are working smoothly and efficiently. Through personal contact with women students these groups can do much to increase student interest in athletics. More publicity of women's sports would also help to achieve this purpose. To advance publicity I would advocate (1) a regular M.W.S.A.A. column and complete coverage of women's athletic events in the Daily, and (2) a large notice board in the Arts Building for women's intramural sports.

OUTSIDE ATHLETICS

The problem of athletes playing for outside teams is one that has not involved women students in recent years. Therefore I feel that there is no need for a regulation to be made concerning a non-existent problem. If, however, such a situation should come before the M.W.S.A.A., the particular case would have to be given careful consideration and only then could a decision on the matter be made.

NFUS

I am in favor of the basic principles of NFUS, which make it a body to serve as a national union of Canadian students that can present Canada's opinion on the international student level. However I feel there is need for more internal reorganization for which our McGill delegates are working, through motions to be presented at the next conference.

FINANCES AND CUTS

Since the fee raise was not granted I think the Students' Society can help solve its financial problems by (1) reducing the Daily to its most economical form without impairing its function to publicize activities on the campus, and (2) reorganization of the clubs and societies under the S.E.C. and Undergraduate Societies. A complete investigation of the constitution, membership and purpose of these groups would undoubtedly reveal information whereby grants to some clubs could be reduced. Amalgamation of certain clubs with similar purposes and functions might also be possible.

SUGGESTIONS

My other plans for the M.W.S.A.A. include:

(1) More women's events on Athletics Nights such as basketball and volleyball on an inter-collegiate level, and fencing and squash tournaments.

(2) Women's participation in Athletics Afternoon during Winter Carnival.

(3) A women's ski meet held here for Winter Carnival providing arrangements could be made whereby the date of the Middlebury Winter Carnival would not coincide with ours.

As a member of the S.A.C., Women's Athletic Board, S.E.C., Women's Union and Red Wing Society, I shall endeavor, if elected, to do my best on these executives to represent the interests of McGill women students.

Nancy Roscoe is a graduate of Queen Elizabeth High School in Halifax where she was active in basketball, swimming, tennis, and the Students' Council organization. She entered Science at McGill in 1951 on a scholarship which she has since maintained.

Nancy's participation in athletics at McGill has been varied. She has been active in the annual Water Show — as a swimmer her first year, and as one of the committee for organizing and composing the past two shows. She has represented McGill in inter-collegiate Fencing tournaments the past two years, as well as playing Intercity Basketball and skating for a specialty number in the Carnival Revue.

Nancy has been active in R.V.C. life also where she served on the House Council, as accompanist for the R.V.C. Choir, and is this year Treasurer of the students' House Committee. Her executive ability in the athletics field was proven when she served as Faculty of Science representative. (Continued on Page 6)

Union Vice-President

David Fleming

Platform

While talking to a number of my friends around the campus, I was asked by them what my campaign promises would be. To their questions I replied that I wouldn't like to commit myself by making any foolish and improbable promises, as there are more often said than carried out. I would like, however, to try to accomplish the following:

I will, if elected Vice-President of the McGill Union, strive to make the Union a more comfortable and relaxing spot for those who use it. To carry out this task, I will try to acquire a new radio, a television set, and more chairs.

I would also like to expand the social, cultural and recreational program of the Union so that the maximum usage of the building and facilities is made. I feel that there should be more dances and social affairs, besides the main ones.

To improve the Union itself, there are a great many things which need corrections and additions. A higher standard of cleanliness could be introduced into the entire establishment at very little expense. Some form of wall decoration should be added to make the Union a little more attractive. There should also be enough playing cards in the pool-room.

On the whole, I could also say that since the Union is so important in a student's life, I think McGill can do with a new one.

David Fleming

David Fleming came to McGill, after graduating from Westmount High, where he had taken an active part in athletics and student activities. In the time that he has been at McGill, Dave has shown himself to be an enthusiastic participant in student activities.

Working on the Daily, he also found time for such diversified interests as the Psychology and Pre-Med clubs. A well rounded personality, he also took part in many athletic events, excelling in fencing and tennis.

Platform

In the past, many platforms have been concerned with the attractiveness and external appearance of the Union. Admittedly the building must be kept in adequate repair, but the policy of renovation is incongruous when a new union is now being actively considered.

What the Union does need, is a complete improvement of atmosphere. It should be the centre of campus activity for all students in all faculties, not just a minority.

The union should promote an active programme of its own; in regard to this I propose:—

1. Any measures that will ensure a generally relaxed atmosphere in the union.

2. The holding of dances on a regular basis, along lines that will enable more students to become acquainted with each other.

3. To provide seclusion in the reading room by the construction of movable inexpensive partitions.

4. To provide more colour in certain rooms by hanging appropriate prints.

5. To give my fullest cooperation to the president in the execution of his duties.

This platform does not advocate any radical changes in administration, heretofore, the administration has been good; what it does advocate, is an eradication of the unions barnlike qualities.

My platform is simply action, common sense, and co-operation. The Engineering faculty will benefit and thrive under the leadership of a president who can revive Engineering's traditional spirit and vigour, a quality which has been declining noticeably during the past few years. I would appreciate the opportunity of heading up an active executive body to get this started. Here is how I think it can be done.

1. The Engineers should have organized representation at football games and winter carnival activities.

2. Engineering jackets should be made available as soon as possible after college opens in the fall.

3. Student interests in S.E.C. activities directly concerning the Engineering faculty should be presented, discussed and publicized in the "Plumbers' Pot."

My policy is to continue having the E.U.S. Executive serve the engineers in the best possible manner, hence giving you the greatest value for your money.

The E.U.S. provides such services as the Plumbers' Ball, the Annual Smoker, the McGill "Engineer", publications of old exams, a book exchange, and numerous others. Plans have been completed to extend these services, to accord freshman engineers a better reception, to re-decorate and re-furnish the Common Room, and to again publish our Handbook.

One plan that I believe worthy of mention is to give the engineers a reduction at all E.U.S. social functions. This could be effected by issuing E.U.S. membership cards at registration, much in the same manner as the (Continued on Page 6)

Women's Union Secretary

Joan Caplan

Platform

Initially, I would like to make it clear that the following platform is presented with the view of defining the position and participation of women students at McGill in their Union activities.

1) A weekly report on meetings and events submitted to The Daily or the issuing of a monthly bulletin. This would enable a more sustained interest in the Women's Union and greater participation in the programme that is planned.

2) In the past, the activities scheduled by the Women's Union have stressed fourth year participation. I feel strongly that a reorganized programme should maximize on first, second and third year interest, while sustaining the present fourth year high level of support.

3) An Opening Tea for all women students to meet their executive, to discuss the agenda for the coming year and to provide an opportunity for programme criticisms and suggestions.

In presenting this platform I give my wholehearted and sincere support to the Women's Union.

Joan Caplan

Pen Sketch

Those of us who know Joan and have worked with her during the past two years are well-acquainted with her leadership qualities as well as her dependability and sense of responsibility. Always quick to adapt herself Joan has actively participated in many campus activities including the following:

1) ASUS Social Committee for which she received an award '53;
2) Annual Sales Staff '52-'53-'54;
3) Combines Charities '52-'53, Secretarial work and canvassing;
4) McGill Prom, Publicity '52;
5) McGill Prom Executive '53;
6) Open House, Chairman of Classics Department and Secretarial work;
7) Women's Union Fashion Show '53;
8) Women's Union Fashion Show, Publicity Director '54.

For these reasons, together with her ability to get along with people, her friendliness and enthusiasm, we have no hesitancy in supporting Joan for the position of Secretary of the Women's Union.

Since the SEC is headed by a man and composed primarily of men, women students of McGill must look to the Women's Union. Throughout my college career, I have been interested in Women's Union activities, and if elected to the position of secretary, I will do my best to further the interests of the women students of McGill.

Jean Carol Craig

Pen Sketch

Since Jean Carol Craig is active in events both at McGill and off the campus, we feel that she is perfectly qualified to fulfill the position for which she is nominated. As secretary for the Women's Union, she would carry out her duties capably and efficiently.

While attending West Hill High School, she was an enthusiastic member of the Current Events Club and the Cercle Français. A member of the Red Cross and the Girls' Choir, she was first violinist in the school orchestra for the four years of high school. Jean Carol is interested in athletics as well, participating in class sports and on the school swimming team. She was Literary Editor of the High School Annual, as well as being Class Photographer for her graduating year.

After entering McGill on a William Birks Scholarship, Jean Carol has upheld her academic standing as well as her extracurricular activities. She is a member of the Choral Society, and was last year a member of the Archery Team. She is also an active participant in this year's Open House and a member of the Redwing Society. Last year she was a finalist in the Carnival Queen Contest, and this year was working on the Queen's Committee for the Winter Carnival.

Outside McGill, Jean Carol is a scholarship student at the Conservatoire de Musique de la Province de Quebec, and is also associated with the Montreal Junior Symphony as first violinist.

From this you can see that Jean Carol Craig is interested in a wide variety of activities and has had experience in working with large groups of students. For her all-round qualities and her interest in McGill activities we feel that Jean Carol Craig is just the person we want to see in the position of Secretary of the Women's Union.

Alison Lansdown

Platform

Too often we hear the complaint, — what does the Women's Union do? In effect, the Women's Union has been unable to appeal to the vast majority of McGill women and too many of them are almost unaware of its existence. I think the Women's Union program needs imaginative reorganization, and to this end, I propose the following points, which, if elected, I shall try to implement.

(1) Career Clinics should be held at noontime instead of the evening so that more could attend. First and second year students should be encouraged to attend these instead of only fourth year girls so that they could plan their courses towards a particular job. By the time one reaches fourth year it is useless to find out what courses one should have taken.

(2) Tea dances after the football games, one of which was tried this year very successfully, should be continued and extended.

(3) In the past, lunches and teas have been held to provide means for R.V.C. girls to meet town girls and vice versa. The trouble with this system was that no one bothered to mix and merely talked to girls she already knew. A solution might be to encourage a friendly rivalry between town and R.V.C. girls via bridge tournaments, ping pong matches, etc.; this would effectively bring the two groups into contact.

Alison Lansdown

Pen Sketch

Alison Lansdown hails from England originally, although she received much of her schooling here in Canada. At school she was an enthusiastic member of the Dramatic Society, and Secretary of the Modern Language Society. She was active in sports, receiving her school colours in Lacrosse. In addition, Alison was a prefect in her last year at school, during which time she received valuable executive experience.

Alison is in second year Honours French. During this year she has been active in various campus activities; she worked for Combined Charities, and acted in this year's Red and White Revue, "Love Amis."

Alison is an energetic, friendly person who works well with people; because of her interest in extra-curricular activities and executive ability, we, the undersigned, feel she should be elected to the position of Secretary of the Women's Union. We place our full confidence in Alison Lansdown.

SUGGESTIONS

Other specific plans and suggestions which I would implement are:—

1. Spending what funds we have for renovations on cleaning and brightening the building as much as possible, not just to a point where it satisfies the City Health Laws.

2. Moving those mechanical monsters in the lobby elsewhere. They take away what dignity the old place still has.

3. Painting and cleaning the downstairs Workshop, providing it with a table and chairs so it can be used as a small meeting room. Replacing the cluttered open shelves with cupboards so we can take an outsider into the room and not feel ashamed.

4. Making the atmosphere of the Grill room and the Cafeteria more appetizing. Better lighting in the Grillroom, drapes or curtains at the windows, more coats-racks in both rooms, all would be desirable.

5. Investigate the possibility of having student artists paint murals or paintings to use in decorating the walls of the Union, instead of the same tired old travel posters to places we may never see.

In short, I plan to spend our money to give us a brighter and cleaner Union, without the ambitious schemes that would waste money better directed towards The New Union Fund.

Platform
The M.W.S.A.A. is on the campus for the specific purpose of providing athletic and recreational activities for all women students. By promoting interest and increasing participation in these activities the M.W.S.A.A. can become more effective.

This could be accomplished in several ways. Representation of the M.W.S.A.A. on the Athletics Night and Winter Carnival committees would promote an increased participation of women's teams in these events. In these instances women's athletics would be seen by many students. This would serve to increase the prestige of the M.W.S.A.A. and thus it could become more effective.

Publicity is extremely important. There should be a greater coverage of women's sports in the Daily and in the leading Montreal newspapers. The Freshman Preview was greatly improved this year but with better publicity I feel that it would attract more students.

The most important facets of the M.W.S.A.A. to me are the clubs, which are well-equipped, and their various intramural competitions. These clubs serve all the women students at McGill whether they are proficient athletes or enthusiastic beginners. However, few students take the opportunity to make use of these clubs. This situation of disinterest could be partially rectified by increased publicity in the Daily, posters in the various buildings and by contact of the council with the students themselves.

OUTSIDE ATHLETICS
I feel that the student should be allowed to participate in athletics outside of the University (if he is a) ineligible to represent the University, or b) in need of financial support which might not otherwise be forthcoming. However, these are special considerations and the validity of such a need should be thoroughly reviewed by the Athletics Board. Should the student wish to represent an outside group as well as McGill, this, I feel, should be his choice.

NFOUS
N.F.O.U.S. has the potential to become an effective organization but up to the present time the full possibilities have not been realized. McGill is a large and powerful Canadian University and I feel that she should have a definite place in N.F.O.U.S. providing that organization makes effective some of the constructive suggestions put forth by McGill.

FINANCE
The problem for the Students' Society is not which activities do we have to "cut"; it is one of basic internal reorganization of all societies. The greater proportion of student activities could continue to function on somewhat reduced budgets, with no restriction on their scope if they are prepared to look into their own operations and reduce their budgets accordingly. For several years the Junior Prom budgeted for a loss; such a reorganization was carried out and the dance now operates with a small margin of profit. There has been far too much "we budgeted for it — what's the difference if we spend it? I speak from personal experience.

In conclusion, I would like to thank those people who think me capable of filling the position of President of the M.W.S.A.A. and if elected, I promise to serve them the best of my ability and try to carry out this platform.

She graduated with honours leading her class in her matriculation.

Platform
The McGill Women Students' Athletic Association will only be effective provided that its integral parts, — club managers and Intramural Sports Committee, are working smoothly and efficiently. Through personal contact with women students these groups can do much to increase student interest in athletics. More publicity of women's sports would also help to achieve this purpose. To advance publicity I would advocate (1) a regular M.W.S.A.A. column and complete coverage of women's athletic events in the Daily, and (2) a large notice board in the Arts Building for women's intramural sports.

OUTSIDE ATHLETICS
The problem of athletes playing for outside teams is one that has not involved women students in recent years. Therefore I feel that there is no need for a regulation to be made concerning a non-existent problem. If, however, such a situation should come before the M.W.S.A.A., the particular case would have to be given careful consideration and only then could a decision on the matter be made.

NFOUS
I am in favor of the basic principles of NFOUS, which make it a body to serve as a national union of Canadian students that can present Canada's opinion on the international student level. However I feel there is need for much internal reorganization for which our McGill delegates are working, through motions to be presented at the next conference.

FINANCES AND CUTS
Since the fee raise was not granted I think the Students' Society can help solve its financial problems by (1) reducing the Daily to its most economical form without impairing its function to publicize activities on the campus, and (2) reorganization of the clubs and societies under the S.E.C. and Undergraduate Societies. A complete investigation of the constitution, membership and purpose of these groups would undoubtedly reveal information whereby grants to some clubs could be reduced. Amalgamation of certain clubs with similar purposes and functions might also be possible.

SUGGESTIONS
My other plans for the M.W.S.A.A. include:

(1) More women's events on Athletics Nights such as basketball and volleyball on an Inter-collegiate level, and fencing and squash tournaments.

(2) Women's participation in Athletics Afternoon during Winter Carnival.

(3) A women's ski meet held here for Winter Carnival providing arrangements could be made whereby the date of the Middlebury Winter Carnival would not coincide with ours.

As a member of the S.A.C., Women's Athletic Board, S.E.C., Women's Union and Red Wing Society, I shall endeavor, if elected, to do my best on these executives to represent the interests of McGill women students.

By Harvey Moss

The big red basketball machine failed to give the McGill fans the thrill of seeing a senior basketball team win another game this year, as they were dropped by the Assumption College Purple Raiders by the score of 64-51 on Saturday night.

The purple and white from Windsor were the only team to make such a good showing on the Redmen home floor. All the other intercollegiate teams that played here won very close games as the McGillians played some of their better ball at their home court.

It was a different cry, though, on Saturday evening when the red five played a poorer brand of ball than usual and the Assumption crew took full advantage of the situation. Only the potting of Mel Mikalchki who scored 21 points for the losers, prevented the tilt from being a much larger rout.

Although the McGill cagers were taken by only thirteen points, the score did not indicate the play. The Redmen were never really threatening and the Raiders showed a beautiful display of ball handling. Their shooting was a little off, or else they could have scored at least 80 points. We would have liked to see the game in Windsor, when the Assumptionites trounced the red and white five to the score of 87-45.

From the opening whistle, the McGillians started fast and it looked like it was going to be another close one as the red cagers went ahead 15-12 at the end of the first quarter. Their hopes were soon diminished as the purple five came on and went ahead in the half by a 25-22 count.

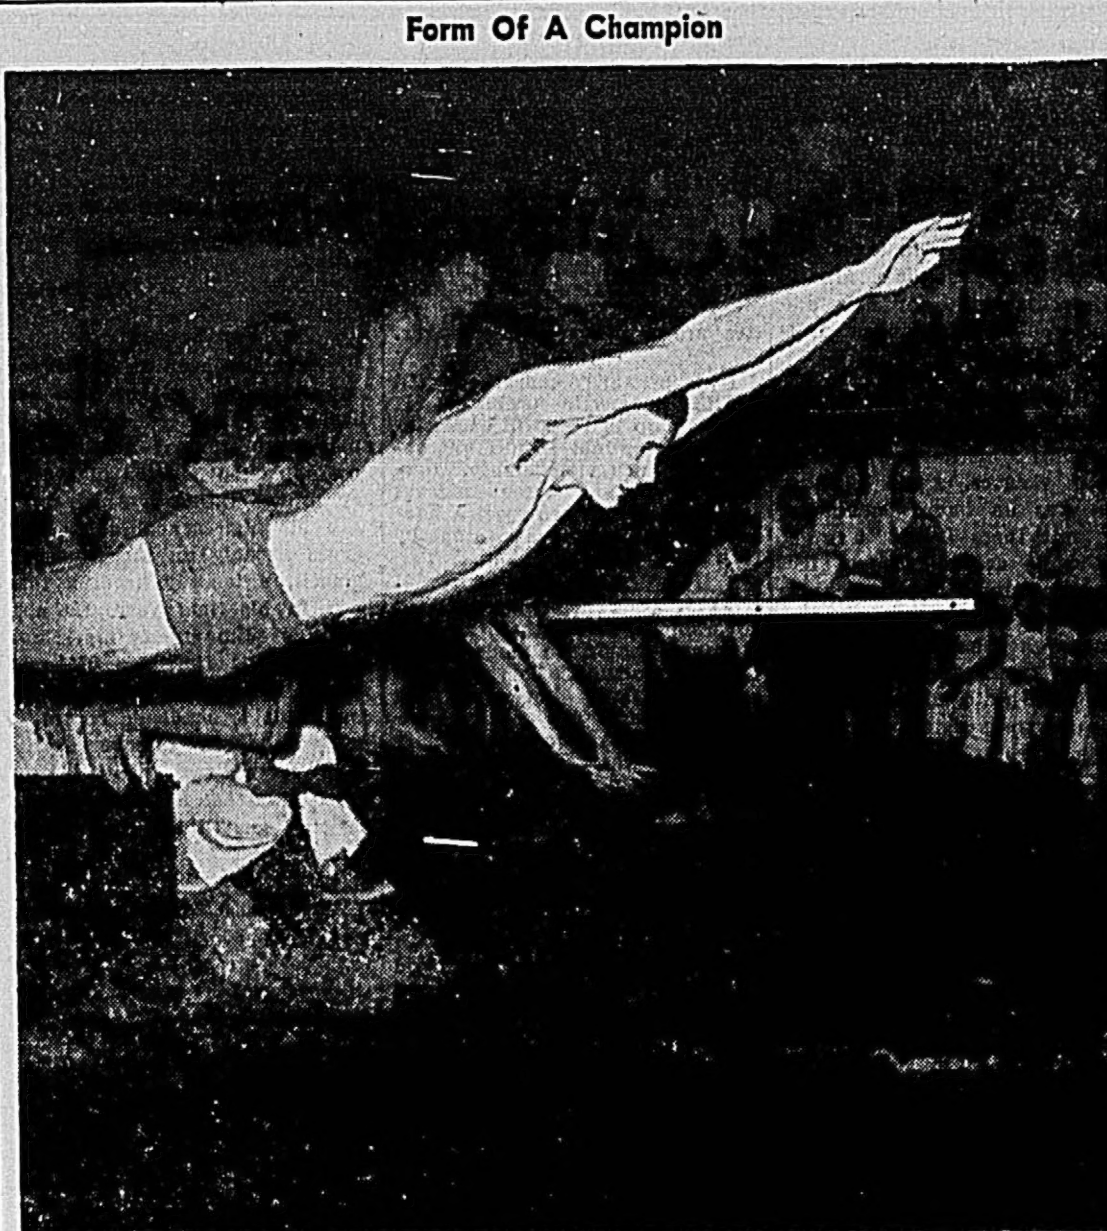

In the last few minutes of the game the Redmen started to drive hard and some thought we would see a repetition of past games this year. But the powerful purple hoopsters matched the Redmen basket for basket and the McGillians could go nowhere, as the tilt ended with the Raiders sitting on top of the 64-51 score.

The Assumption were masters at ball handling on Saturday and they certainly displayed one of the best brands of ball that we have seen here all season. They were led by their star center Matt Borwels who netted 22 points and was the high scorer of the evening. George Joseph, a guard who averaged 21 points per game in his freshman year last season, played a shifty game of ball and put on an interesting show for the locals scoring 11 points. In Assumption's first meeting with McGill in Windsor, Joseph played less than half a game and swished the hoops for 18 points.

For the Redmen, Mikalchki and captain Gordie Edwards were top point getters Mikalchki netting 21 and Edwards 9. George Klein and Finney Jefferson had 6 apiece. The McGillian five have two remaining games to complete this season's play. Both these meetings take place this weekend when the Redmen travel to Hamilton and Toronto to take on the McMaster University Marauders on Friday and the University of Toronto Blues on Saturday.

... Jimmy McLaughlin, who rode at about 91 pounds, in 1891, when he was rated one of the great jockeys of all time, grew up in later years to a round 250 pounds. This, of course, was more suitable to his career as an assistant hotel manager.

Dave Hedberg, is just getting underway in the 50 yard free style, which he won in record time, at the intercollegiate swimming finals held on the weekend. Hedberg also won the 100 yards, a new record again, to spark the team to the title.

Form Of A Champion

Indians Massacre Mac In Seventh Cage Win

By Pete Regenstreif

Number 7 again proved lucky on Saturday night as the 'wild' Indians of McGill cage repute racked up their seventh win of the season trouncing their cousins, the Macdonald College Aggies, 68-25, in an easy contest. There was never any doubt as to the outcome even from the outset with the result that the home squad was completely relaxed and turned in a solid effort.

QUICK OPENER

Portent of things to come was evidenced right at the start when Stan Diamond took the ball off a smart jump from Ozzie Zommers and drove home the basket on the "fast break" with but 3 seconds of playing time having elapsed. That seemed to take all the glimp out of the opposition and the rout was on its way. By merely observing the score quarter by quarter, it is evident that the Inters were pulling away with every minute. While only holding an eight point advantage at quarter time, the Indians had tripled their opponents score by the tea-time respite, and by the three-quarter mark were up 54-22.

As usual, high man for the tilt was bucket-man and co-captain Ozzie Zommers with 16 points, fourteen in the second half. Ozzie really shone in the rebounding department as he also lead the squad in this respect. Stan "The Man" Diamond bid his farewell to Intermediate college ball with a fine 13 point performance. Diamond will be making the trip out west with the Seniors next week which will render him ineligible for any further participation in the Ottawa-St. Lawrence Conference. Mark Bercvitz contributed 9 points to the winner's cause until he left at three quarter time to see Les Canadiens take on the Rangers at the Forum. The ticket situation being what it is around these parts, one can hardly blame Berkle for taking advantage of such an opportunity. The entire team had a hand in the scoring with Roy Amaron, Donny Rae and John Hutton all grouped with six apiece heading the rest. Bob Armstrong of the Aggies led the losers with 12.

There has been talk in some circles lately about the advisability of keeping the league in its present set-up. From this corner, however, it seems absurd to have such an unwieldy schedule of ten games with only four or five teams of high calibre. There has been a suggestion that the loop be broken up into "A" and "B" sections with teams of the McGill standard in the former and teams of the quality of Bishops of Macdonald in the latter. Thus a situation such as exists this year could not possibly come about. Queens, having met McGill at the beginning of the year took the encounter with ease. But under the tutelage of Ron Sharp the Inters have come a long way and could quite possibly hand the Gaels their come-uppance. Due to the lengthy schedule the Indians will not get the chance at a return match as there are no play-offs. So we will just have to be content with a mere second place. This should give league officials something to think about over the summer layoff.

TWO LEFT

There are two games left this season. First Sir George this week and finally Ottawa University in the gym. A split of the contests assures a second place finish for our jobbies.

Blue Basketbelles Win Bronze Baby

By Rona Silverman

Always a bridesmaid but never a bride. This woeful wail applies to the Red and White basketball sextet again this weekend. They finished in the runner up spot in the co-ed collegiate championship cage contest for the third straight year. Seeing that McGill is only a bridesmaid they cannot have the Bronze Baby. Varsity has won the coveted trophy, symbolic of female basketball supremacy.

The tourney's opening fixture on Friday saw the kilted kids from Queen's pitted against the white Bluebelles. The Torontonian torrent washed all before it and handed the ko-edds from Kingston a drubbing to the tune of 42-23.

In the second semi-final bout, Western went against McGill. This was a terrifically hard fought match up until the very end of the very last round. The score changed hands faster than a woman's mind in an exclusive hat shop, in the closing seconds.

The consolation match Saturday afternoon was a slow sloppy shooting, slippery fingered game. The University of Western Ontario defeated Queen's 27-20. The final fixture of the tournament saw U of T and McGill take to the courts. Both teams played their hearts out but the best team won.

The two squads were tied 18 all at the beginning of the last half. At this point the Toronto train pulled ahead and the Red and White gals waited at the station. They capitalized on most of their shots while the home team missed a good percentage of theirs. The Torontonian girls got in for all the rebounds and displayed great accuracy in their passing.

They took the match and the championship 44-30.

High scorers of the contest were, Sally Wallace of Toronto, with 14 points, Jane Duff who swished for 12 points, Shirley Roberts, Dorothy May of McGill and Janna Kuncie each netted 8 points apiece.

A big bouquet to Ann Turnbull who played a great game as well as managed the entire tournament very efficiently.

Blues End Pucksters' Collegiate Title Hopes

By Irwin Lewis

The Toronto Varsity Blues fired only seventeen shots at Al Lindsay, McGill netminder, but came up with a 5-4 win over Rocky Robillard's senior hockey squad. As a result, the Queen city crew takes over third place in the Intercollegiate League, while the Redmen drop to the cellar.

Dick Baltzan was the big gun for McGill, with two goals to his credit, while Pete McElheron and George Petty tallied the others. Two more goals tallied by the Redmen were called back, while a number of shots came so close they would have hit the goal post — if it had one more coat of paint.

Toronto were outplayed all the way, but managed to stay within striking distance of the Redmen, finally overtaking them at 15:52 of the third period. Robillard's crew had been leading 4-3 at the start of the final canto, but Varsity scored twice in this last period, without a McGill reply.

Before the crowd had time to settle in their seats, after the National Anthem, Toronto had grabbed a 1-0 lead, on a goal by Cosnar at the seven second mark. An Intercollegiate hockey record must have been set, by this lightning tally.

McGill finally came to life at 7:40 of the first period, when Pete McElheron notched the tying marker, on a pass from Whitey Schutz. At 9:53, Petty gave the Red and White team a 2-1 lead, with Baltzan and Jotkus getting the assists.

Toronto bounced back to even the score at 10:31 of this initial frame, Wilks tallying. Riley and Logie received credit for the assists. Dick Baltzan notched his first marker of the evening just eighteen seconds later, on a pass from Pete Jotkus, to give the Redmen the lead once again. Before the period had ended, McElheron scored, but his goal was disallowed.

Lou Appleby made it "a new game" for the Torontonians, as he tied the count at 8:27 of the second period. Wilks and Morneau assisted. Dick Baltzan scored his second of the evening at 14:80 on passes from Johnson and Jotkus, to round off the McGill scoring. Only three penalties were handed out in this second period, four being the total for the evening, something of a record as well, considering the amount of time spent in the cooler by McGill players and those of the opposition in previous home games.

Once again, Toronto came from behind, as Tovey scored at 8:19 of the third period, to tie the score at 4-4. McGill could not score in this final period but had a wide margin in the territorial play. Bourgoin, Dorion, Robertson and Baltzan all came extremely close to scoring, but coming close just isn't enough.

Bodnar won the game for Toronto at 15:52, on a pass from Akitt. The Redmen could not tally in the last four minutes to bring the game into overtime.

Ron Robertson played his usual fine game, as did Dick Baltzan, Whitey Schutz, and George Petty, the latter getting a nasty cut over his eye.

Al Lindsay has not been the same since McGill's 6-5 win over the U of M Carabins. The ex-Winter Carnival Chairman has not been playing up to par, in a position that permits few lapses, especially in a high scoring league such as the Intercollegiate.

Rumor has it that Bob MacLellan may be back at McGill next year.

Dick Cowan ...

Cowan has already demonstrated his competence and zeal — particularly as Chairman of the Academic Interests Committee. During his period of office on the SEC, he has become intimately acquainted with the current problems facing the Students' Society, and the administration which handles them. This Council, on which he has worked so well, is largely made up of people who will continue to serve on the Council for the first half of next year. The fact that he has engendered the respect and co-operation of these people we feel is particularly significant.

ARMY EXPERIENCE

Before coming to McGill, within two years Dick received his Commission in the British Army serving as a Liaison Officer with the Signal Corps in the Middle East. As Regimental Pay Officer and Regimental Transport Officer he gained valuable financial and administrative experience.

STUDENTS' SOCIETY POSTS

As an ex-officio member of the Douglas Hall Residents' Council, he has met students from many countries, from every Faculty at McGill, gaining much greater awareness of all facets of campus life than most. This awareness was expanded during his valuable contribution to Open House. He is at present a member of the Open House Standing Committee. As Chief Returning Officer for the ASUS he was largely responsible for the successful elections last term where for the first time in years wholesale acclamations were avoided.

Nancy Roscoe ...

ative and Secretary of the Intramural Sports Committee last year and as Secretary (and therefore an executive) of the M.W.S.A.A. Council this year.

We feel that Nancy's experience and enthusiasm in athletic and executive matters are a decided asset and therefore urge you to support this efficient and sincere candidate for the Presidency of the M.W.S.A.A.

ATHLETICS

Dick has represented McGill for two years on the Rugby team (Intercollegiate Champions) and as Vice-Captain has gained first-hand experience with the administrative side of the Athletics Department.

Dick Cowan's greatest asset is his character. And when we consider his great sincerity, his unusual competence and sense of responsibility, we respect him as the man by whom we would prefer to be represented.

out finding out what changes I intend to put into effect if elected?

Why this lack of interest in their own Undergraduate Executive? Obviously they feel that the A.S.U.S. has not affected them enough to merit their interest. This, in spite of the fact that the outgoing Executive has been more active, and has held more and better events than any I can remember. I regard these increased activities of this past Executive as a step in the right direction, and I intend to further promote the tremendous spirit of which Arts and Science is capable.

I intend to give as much aid and assistance to clubs under the ASUS as possible, both financially and otherwise, and will provide a stronger bond between the society and these clubs.

It is my firm belief that Arts and Science is capable of winning the Intramural Athletics Championship, something which they have not been able to do as yet and I shall use every possible means towards achieving that end.

I intend to improve professor-student relations by organizing Gen. Nights, smokers and teas.

It is my personal opinion, that promises made in an election campaign are very seldom fulfilled. It is for this reason that I have committed myself only to functions and improvements that I feel, if elected, I will be capable of carrying out.

The many issues and decisions which will arise during the Executive's term of office must be resolved by administrative ability and not by rash campaign promises. Should I be elected, I shall devote my full energy to the obligations and responsibilities of this position and will be open at all times to any further suggestions.

Pen Sketch

We, the undersigned, nominate Ed. Blanshay for the position of President of the Arts and Science Undergraduate Society. We believe that he possesses the enthusiasm and conscientiousness needed for such a position.

Ed. came to McGill in 1951 from the High School of Montreal, and has since taken an active part in campus activities, ranging from debating to Intramural Athletics. He was elected President of Third Year Arts and Science, and has served on the ASUS executive in which capacity he fulfilled his duties to the utmost.

He has, from the first year at McGill, taken an avid interest in the activities of MOC. On the Club's executive this year, Ed. wrote the MOC weekly column, "Up 'n Over", in the Daily. He also participated in the MOC Woodsmen's Weekend, and the McGill Open House.

We feel that Ed's friendly personality, executive capacity, and wide interest in all phases of campus life, have clearly demonstrated his competence, and therefore, we wholeheartedly recommend him for your support.

were: Arts & Science News, General Nights, Smokers, debating, and a New Year's Eve Dance, and this in turn led to an increase in student backing. I am fully in favor of continuing these activities which contribute greatly to the furtherance of Arts and Science spirit and student-professor relations.

A second point I would like to make at this time concerns intramural athletics as applied to Arts & Science. Again I think there was an improvement last year, but there is still a great deal to be accomplished. I feel that if an interested student is subjected to the athletic programme when he first enters McGill he would then familiarize himself with its advantages and scope and perhaps derive much enjoyment from it in his later years. Now it is my belief that ASUS can improve on this situation.

Finally, in closing, I would like to clarify my position concerning the ASUS Executive's controversial motion to drastically reduce grants to the clubs and societies under its jurisdiction. I am definitely opposed to any such plan as I believe that these clubs and societies form an integral part of the undergraduate society and should receive help whenever it is warranted.

Pen Sketch

Jaime Robertson came to McGill in 1951 from Lower Canada College and is presently in third year science.

For the past two and half years, Jaime has been active in various phases of McGill extra curricular activities, playing intermediate hockey in 1951 and again this year. He was elected to the Scarlet Key Society last December and is currently publicity chairman for the Arts and Science Undergraduate Society.

In view of Jaime's friendly personality and experience with the Society and its related activities we the undersigned, believe that he has more than the necessary qualifications to ably fill the position of President on the ASUS.

ative is inhibited by the presence of the taxpayer, thereby not acting as he himself thinks right, he should not be a representative. The only exception is the case of SEC appointments and very personal matters for which special closed sessions could be called.

SUGGESTIONS

I shall answer this question in terms of three different broad policies.

The first concerns the new union, which for the reasons given, I believe can be attained within the next three to five years. The consequences of this are twofold:

First, in my association with the new union committee, and with the New Union Committee Chairman (who sits on the Union House Committee) I would do all I can to study and aid the project. Second: Because of my faith in the new union I would direct what available funds there are to the purchase of those things which would be to the advantage of both the old and the new building. An example of this is the inauguration of a record library, which like all libraries, must grow with the years. In my view this is the only sensible way of constructing a bridge from the old to the new. For, it is obvious that large scale renovations, such as the billiard-room proposal would be wasteful. Further, in view of the SEC deficit any 'New Union Fund', could only come about by greatly curtailing student activities. This would impose considerable hardships in order to obtain a sum which can only be regarded as infinitesimal in relation to the millions of dollars needed for the new union, which can be supplied from other sources.

My second general policy is to encourage much greater use of the union in order to help make of it what it should be: a center for recreation as well as for an exchange of ideas between students of all faculties, which is, to my mind an essential requirement of a university. In this regard, the various faculties should be encouraged to use the union for smokers, and there certainly could be more informal dances throughout the year.

The third general policy is concerned with administration; for this still takes by far the greatest amount of time of the Union President. I believe in this respect that nothing should be taken for granted, and that there should be a searching examination of the whole organization — from the dates committee to the food situation, and improvements made where necessary.

economy measures — eg — the Editors of The Daily have informed me that they can cut their expenses by $10.00 next year. No group should have its grants cut until a thorough study has been made of the whole situation, and until all the groups concerned can present their views to the SEC. I am positive that student activities are not in serious danger.

IUS

I am primarily concerned with NFEUS' domestic problems. If membership in IUS will cause internal dissension, then I am opposed to such membership. However, if we can agree amongst ourselves, and if we receive honest and sincere recognition by IUS, then we should join.

OPEN MEETINGS

As it is a principle of good government, I feel that the SEC meetings should be made public to the students. This includes complete daily coverage, and open meetings. The only restriction I would place on this publicity would be where individuals are being considered for various posts, and where personal characteristics might be discussed.

SUGGESTIONS

There are several suggestions which I should like to present to SEC. The first of these is that on all major issues which affect the students, a referendum should be held, rather than a general meeting. This would be one concrete method of overcoming student apathy, and in giving them a keener sense of awareness of campus issues. My opponent has claimed that this would cost too much, but the sum total, as I can see it, would be ten dollars, to cover the cost of printing the ballots.

I believe that SCOPE is a most worthy organization. I would do what I can to encourage its activities and attract speakers of high calibre to appear at McGill. I would also recommend the establishment of a co-ordinate council for the National Clubs to integrate their various activities, to eliminate conflicts as to these activities and to encourage mutual support.

Above all, I promise to devote all my efforts to the best of my ability to provide the student body with the efficient administration they desire.

The condition of the common room is no credit to the Engineers. I advocate a long term programme directed at all students, particularly newcomers, to share some responsibility in keeping the room presentable.

lition exams. When Rose came to McGill she continued her high academic standards by winning a scholarship in her first year.

In addition she immediately began to take an active part in college affairs. In her first year she played on the championship-winning McGill Senior Intercollegiate basketball team, Squash is her favourite sport and one in which she has distinguished herself competitively. Last year she was the intramural champion and in addition was manager of the team. As manager she served a year on the M.W.S.A.A. council gaining valuable experience in the organization of athletics at McGill.

At university Rose has also taken an active part in other campus activities. She has worked on the Annual as assistant features editor during the past year and was in charge of Divinity Hall for the McGill Open House. She also worked on Combined Charities 1953-1954 and the Winter Carnival this month. She has been an enthusiastic member of the Choral Society for the past two years and is on the executive of the M.O.C.

Because of her past experience and accomplishments in athletics Rose Macfarlane is exceptionally well qualified for the position of president of the McGill Women Students Athletic Association and we the undersigned urge your support of this candidate.

John has been at McGill for four years and in that time has displayed a spirited interest in student government affairs. He now holds the position of secretary to the E.U.S. Executive.

In his high school days John served capably on the Students' Council, ultimately heading that body in his final year. He also held the editorship of his school paper, found time for different sports and graduated with a commendable academic record.

We have also discovered that John served two years in the C.O.T.C., acting as a member of various committees and finally receiving his commission in the army.

After considering his enviable record, we heartily endorse John for President of the E.U.S., and we feel that he will handle the job seriously and efficiently!

Bill Hayes comes from Toronto where he engaged in many activities during High School years. He started at McGill in 1950, and has taken part in several student activities here. He is a member of the Mechanical Club; acts on the Student Faculty House Committee; and has served on various Engineering Faculty organizations. His work on the Plumbers' Ball Display brought first prize to the Mechanical 4M class this year. His keen athletic interest rounds out an excellent scholastic standing every year since his start at McGill.

Hayes works quietly and gets things done. Every job he has taken on here at McGill has been thoroughly carried out. He has a keen sense of responsibility, and if he is put in a post where the welfare and interest of the students are part of his job, we are sure he will give it his full and undivided attention.

We unhesitatingly recommend Bill as the man who will make a good officer of the Engineering Undergraduate Society, and a man who will always put the interests of the whole student body first.
